Benefits Debit Cards

What if you could offer a seamless, all-in-one payment solution that enhances your benefits program? Since 2002, DataPath has been empowering clients with account-linked benefits debit cards, making it easier to manage FSAs, HRAs, HSAs, Transit/Commuter accounts, Lifestyle Spending Accounts, and more. Our smart payment solutions help reduce fraud, streamline claims processing, and give participants instant access to their benefit dollars. Plus, adding a card can boost plan enrollment, improve client satisfaction, and keep you competitive in today's market.

DataPath's proprietary debit cards can link to any account-based employer benefit package and offer a stacked benefit environment that allows multiple plans on a single payment solution. Through your DataPath admin portal, you can set up plan order logic so that the cards know which account to charge the card transaction against first.

Our benefits debit cards use DataPath's completely integrated, single-vendor platform for card issuance and authorization logic. We are an end-to-end card processor, and every related function stays in-house, backed by market-leading customer service and technical support.
